From the Paris Gazette, dated August 2.

Madrid, July 18.

THE 9th of this Month the King arriv'd at Talavera, at 11 in the Morning; where he found the Queen expecting him with great Impatience: they din'd together. In the Evening their Majesties appear'd in publick, and there was an extraordinary Concourse of Persons of Quality who came from all parts to see them. The principal Inhabitants of the Town had made Preparations for exhibiting a Bull-Feast, and a Tilting with Canes, to divert the King; his Majesty permitted the latter, and some of the Inhabitants in splendid Accoutrements ran several Courses with great address, in presence of their Majesties. The 12th their Majesties set out from Talavera at 6 a Clock in the Evening, and came to Ce- volla, where they lodg'd in the Count d'Oropesa's Palace. The 13th they arriv'd at Fuenfalida, and the 16th in this City. As they came along, the Crowd that stood to see them made continual Acclamations, Let our beloved King live, let him live many Ages. Tapistry, Pictures, Garlands of Flowers, and the like, were hung out of the Balconies and Windows, in all the Streets they pass'd through. And the Courts of the Palace were illuminated with a great Number of Wax Lights, &c. The Troops are put into Quarters of Refreshment, part in the conquer'd Places, and the rest in divers Places on the Frontier. We learn by some Irish Deserters, that the Enemies having lain encamp'd some time near Estremoz, about 12000 Men in number, are likewise separated and gone into Quarters; the Duke of Schomberg not being able by the pressing Instances he made to prevail with the Portugueze to venture a Battle.

From the Paris Gazette, dated August 9.

Madrid, July 25. The Joy with which the King was receiv'd in the Towns on the Road hither and in this City, was so great, and the People every where gave such extraordinary Marks of it, that there is no Example of the like. The 15th the Grandees and other Persons of Quality that were here went to Mostoles to receive his Majesty at his alighting out of his Coach, and after they had made their Compliments to him they return'd hither at Night, that they might be present at his Entry. At a place call'd la Venta de Alcorcon, the King mounted on Horseback, and rode by the side of the Queen's Coach, being preceded by Grandees and other Persons on Horseback. The Way was water'd to lay the Dust: the Companies of Guards and the King's Regiment follow'd in good Order. The People flock'd together in such Crowds, that Orders were given no Coach should stand in the Streets; the Houses were all illuminated; but there were no Fireworks, that the Baggage might have a clear passage. All the way the King pass'd, the People made continual Acclamations, congratulating him on his Victories and his Health. The 16th the Chapter, and all the Ecclesiastical Orders, Secular and Regular, met at 4 in the Morning, and made a general Procession to the Church of our Lady at Atocha, to return Thanks to God for his Protection of the Monarchy, seen in so much good Success this Campaign, and for the happy Birth of the Duke of Bretagne, in which the whole Nation is interested, as being a Blessing that secures the Tranquility of Spain. In the Evening the King and Queen went to the same Church, and returning found the Streets illuminated with Wax Flambeaus, as was also the Square before the Palace, where a very fine Firework was plaid off. The 18th the Trading Companies of this City call'd los Gremios, exhibited a magnificent Show or sort of Masquerade on Horseback, term'd Mogiganga; at which 300 Horsemen appear'd, splendidly cloath'd in different Habits, there were also several triumphal Chariots. When they were come over against the King's Balcony, loud Shouts were given, and Fireworks were plaid off. The following Night, there was such another Masquerade, but more splendid. The 28th the City will give a Bull-Feast. The Queen Dowager has dispatch'd hither the Count d'Alva-Lista her Major-Domo, to compliment the King on his Return.

From the Paris Gazette, dated August 16.

Madrid, August 1. The 28th of last Month, a Bull-Feast was exhibited with great Magnificence, in Presence of the King and Queen; and a prodigious Crowd of People throng'd to see it. The Cavaliers that most distinguish'd themselves, were Don Simon de Pavia, Don Alonso Bazo, and 5 others; there fell out no unlucky Accident. The Troops are dispos'd into Quarters in divers places on the Frontiers. Some days ago 50 Marines commanded by an Ensign, went up the Minho in 3 Boats, till they arriv'd under the Cannon of Caminha; they set upon some Portuguese Fishing-Barks, burnt 16 and carried off 4, notwithstanding the continual Fire made upon them; two Companies of Militia undertook to defend these Barks, but our Marines threw a good number of Grenadoes among them and made them retire. The 23d 1500 of the Enemy pillag'd Barcarota, the Inhabitants of which retir'd at their approach, the Place not being in a Condition of Defence. The Marquess of Villadarias who was at Merida and Prince Tilly sent help; but the Enemies immediately retir'd to Olivenca.

Weymouth, August 14. Last Night arriv'd the Southampton Transport, Caprain Sanders Commander, from St. Malo's, whence she came last Saturday Morning with about 300 Prisoners who were put on board on Tuesday; but a Fleet of 60 Sail laden with Wine, Brandy, &c. being bound thence to the East of France under convoy of a Ship of War of 22, and another of 24 Guns, and an Account brought that

4 English Men of War were seen at Sea, the abovesaid Transport was stop'd 3 days; yet the said French Ships were not fail'd when she came away.
The Captain reports, that the Coventry Man of War which went with the outward bound Newfoundland Fleet was taken, and 2 of the Ships she had under her Convoy. Also that the Foy Man of War from New-England was taken, and one of the Virginia Fleet, which might make up the Number of English Prisoners he left behind 700. That there are 47 or 48 Privateers from 10 to 44 Guns, gone out of St.
Maloes, and more are fitting out. A Dutch Merchant Ship brought into St. Maloes reported, that she parted from 10 English Men of War who were then giving chase to 7 French Men of War; and that on Thursday she heard great firing off Ushant, which she presum'd to be between those Ships. There was a talk at St. Maloes, that Advice was come thither the French and Confederate Fleets in the Straights were in fight of each other: And that there are 2 Ships of War of 50 Guns each, 1 of 30, and 1 of 14, fitting out at Brest to cruise in the Soundings. On Saturday last Captain Turner in the Diligence Privateer brought in a Swede here laden with Wine and Brandy from Nants for Gottenbourg.

Edinburgh, August 12. The 8th it was mov'd in our Parliament, That the Plot be inquir'd into, and a day appointed for that Effect: After reasoning on the said Motion, the following Resolve was presented, viz. Resolved, That the House of Lords address to the Queen in relation to the Nomination of their Successor to our Crown, and their Examination of the Plot, in so far as concerns Scotland and Scotsmen, was an undue intermeddling with our Concerns, and an Inroad upon the Independancy, Honour and Sovereignty of this Nation. And that the Proceedings of the House of Commons were like those of good Subjects to their Queen, and good and friendly Neighbours to Scotland. After debate, the first Clause concerning the Lords was approv'd: But the second Clause being amended, viz. That the Proceedings of the House of Commons in all these Matters, were like those of good and friendly Neighbours to this Nation: was put to the Vote Approve or Not,
and carried Not.
